NBA Approves Team Personnel Attendance at Nike Global Challenge

Portland, Oregon – The NBA has just approved the attendance of team personnel at the Nike Global Challenge this July 29-31, 2007 at the University of Portland's Chiles Center. This approval will give NBA coaches and personnel the unique opportunity to view some of the world's best high school and U19 players. Invitations and tournament information will be sent to all teams.

The Nike Global Challenge is an eight team, 20-game basketball tournament that will feature the top 40 United States high school basketball players selected from the LeBron James Skills Academy and the national and U19 teams of Canada, China, Puerto Rico, and Senegal. United States team selections will be made Friday, July 13, 2007.

For tournament information and brackets, visit www.nikeglobalchallenge.com.
